Critical Training on Information Sharing Now Available Online

The National Information Exchange Model (NIEM) - a standards-based information sharing model - greatly enhances agencies' abilities to share data and improve operations, while saving integration and implementation costs. A partnership of DOJ, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, and the Global Justice Information Sharing Initiative, NIEM is quickly becoming the de facto standard for information sharing across the justice and homeland security domains. NIEM training, primarily funded by BJA, is now available online, enabling students to take the course anywhere and at their own pace. Enrollment is always open and is free of charge. Learn more.

Portal

The Office of Attorney General's Crime Lab has an important reminder for DNA Search Inquiries:

Please help alleviate additional DNA samplings at the State's Crime Lab by searching the CJIS Portal with a Name Search for DNA information already on file. The Date of Birth search criteria field may be used to limit the search results. If you limit the search results with further criteria such as SID or SSN, DNA records are not returned as these records do not have this information available.
